

"All is Well That Ends Well"

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness, sleeplessness and general ill health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be assimilated and carried to the blood. On the other hand, the blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion. In turn, the nerves are not fed on good, red blood and we see those symptoms of nervous breakdown. It is not hard work that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip-bronchitis-consumption. Fortify the body now with

WHY?

GREAT ENGLISH DOCTORS RECOMMEND WHITBREAD

Important to Every American Family

The famous house of Whitbread has been known in England for over 160 years, and now it is famous in the large cities of America, because great doctors have recommended Whitbread English Ale or Whitbread Stout (Malt Extract) for sleeplessness, run-down condition, and especially to mothers and those in a run-down condition. This Ale or Stout are totally unlike all others. Thousands and thousands of women have found immediate relief from illness by taking Whitbread Stout. Doctors, clergymen and professional men drink Whitbread Ale or Stout for nervousness, due to overwork, and to build up the system. Whitbread English Ale and Whitbread Stout are made from the finest barley, malt and hops, and matured naturally in the bottles in England and shipped direct to America. Contains only the natural gas (not carbonated), and most easily digested; in fact, a wonderful tonic for the stomach. The most temperate drink Whitbread Ale, because it is not only a delicious beverage but a tonic and blood giver. In Great Britain Whitbread is a household word. A glass of Whitbread at night time and with the meal gives that peaceful sleep. Do not accept any substitute for Whitbread, as all other English Ales or Stouts are totally different and Whitbread is matured in the bottle. A dozen bottles for a week will convince you of the wonderful effect of Whitbread. For sale locally by brother Paul for counsel. Paul persuades Hal to let him (Paul) take his (Hal's) place. Accordingly the brothers (who are twins) exchange vestures. Hal donning Paul's clerical raiment and Paul assuming his brother's layman attire. Paul is arrested and sent to prison. Hal attempts to carry on his brother's work. In the course of his itinerant preaching, he strikes upon a clue that leads to the discovery and capture of the counterfeiters. In the gunplay that takes place between police and counterfeiters, one is fatally wounded. Hal persuades him to confess. Paul is now pardoned and resumes his missionary work. "A Brother's Loyalty" is a real power in didactic picture drama—a heart gripping, soul stirring drama.

"The Enemy's Baby." Biograph. "The Waiter's Strategy." Lubin. A delightful comedy.

Cosy.

Program for Wednesday and Thursday.

"Man and Woman." (2 reels.) Rango. There are situations that thrill in this two part offering, and the story holds throughout. A man disappointed in love killed himself leaving a note explaining his deed. The woman in the case found the note and fearing her husband's wrath she kept silent. An innocent man was arrested and circumstances proved his guilt. At the trial when his conviction was certain, the woman took the stand and bravely told her story. The court room scenes are good and the cast do fine work.

"The Jolly Recruits." Gt. Northern. A new recruit in the army post has some rough experiences. His comrades put rats in his pockets and frighten him with snakes till finally he deserts. Seeking refuge in a hay stack he awakes to find it on fire. He is arrested and brought back to face the jeers of the soldiers. A laughable comedy.

"The Organist." Dragon. An appealing drama of real life.

STREAMS ABOUND WITH MANY FISH

Spokane County Anglers Make Good Catches—More Fish than in Previous Years.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 31.—More fish have been caught in the lakes, rivers and mountain streams of the Spokane country this season than in any previous two years, according to F. H. Minton, president of the Eastern Washington Fish and Game Protective association. The plentiful supply of game fish is attributed to the protective measures used to discourage operations of the game hogs and to the fact that the states of Idaho and Washington have stocked the waters liberally the last few years. Trout and bass predominate in the catches, although many char, perch and sturgeon have been landed in the 38 lakes within 100 miles of Spokane. The largest sturgeon was taken from the Kootenai river in northern Idaho, and weighed 320 pounds. From Deer Lake, a comparatively little known and seldom fished body of water 40 miles north of Spokane, was taken a 23 1/2 pound mackinaw trout, the largest one reported thus far.

AUGUST WORLD'S WORK.

The financial article in the August number of the World's Work is an explanation of the expression "In the Hands of Receivers." It explains for the benefit of stock and bond holders the legal processes following such an announcement, and the various steps of reorganizing—in a general way. Mr. Frank Parker Stockbridge, in an article on "Fewer and Better Doctors," tells of the recent progress in medical education in America—a progress which the United States Bureau of Education recently referred to as the most marvelous chapter in the history of educational standards, which he attributes to the warfare against quackery, patent medicines and medical frauds that the American Medical Association is waging courageously with ever-increasing vigor and efficiency.

Mr. Burton J. Hendrick describes the career as well as the traits of mind and of character of Mr. Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior. His article, "The American Home Secretary," which is the third of a series on "Who Govern the United States," contains a statement of what Mr. Lane intends to do for Alaska and the reclamation projects.

Mr. Arno Bosch tells "What the I. W. W. is," and his definition of it is "an ability to organize discontent, especially among foreign workers."

Mr. B. F. Harris tells the story of the Illinois Bankers' Association to establish a new relationship between the country banker and the farmer. Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King, formerly minister of labor for Canada and author of the Canadian Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, explains "How Canada Prevents Strikes," by its laws that has prevented all but eighteen strikes in six years on the railroads, public utilities and in the mines.

Sarah Comstock describes the work of Miss Gertrude Beek, whose success in bettering the working and living conditions at Panama, in stores, and in factories, and among many other large bodies of men and women in industry places her among the foremost "welfare workers of the world."

In an article on "More Ships Than Ever Before," Edward Neville Vose tells how the shipowners are breaking all recent records in building, planning new trade routes, and increasing and improving the service on nearly every important line. He explains the reasons for the unprecedented revival in ocean traffic and the effect of the Panama canal on the shipping traffic of the world.

Mr. French Strother has written an interesting character study of Abraham Cahan, the editor of the Jewish Daily Forward, in which he describes the unique place Mr. Cahan holds in New York City.

THE SILHOUETTE IS UNDER BAN

Spokane Commissioner of Public Safety Says Arrests Will Follow Wearing Gown.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 31.—Commissioner of Public Safety D. C. Coates has taken a stand against the silhouette gown, and, if necessary, will issue instructions to his officers to arrest any woman found wearing one on the streets.

"It is not the intention of the administration to place any curb on citizens that will restrict their rightful privileges, but when women parade the streets in gowns of filmy nothingness it is the duty of the police to discourage the practice," said Commissioner Coates. "Any unnecessary display of a woman's person tends to licentiousness."

"Our wives, mothers and sisters protest at these distasteful displays, and as long as I am commissioner of public safety they will be prohibited in Spokane. If necessary I will issue an order to the police department to arrest all women guilty of undue exposure of their persons on the streets. If it is the desire of women, of high or low standing, to wear these gowns in private, that is their affair, but when they parade them in public it comes within the jurisdiction of the city officers."

R. S. Sigman, Ashville, N. C., has retired at 81, after serving 60 years as a railroad engineer without having had a serious accident.

MAN IS CAUGHT SETTING FIRE

Arrested at Wallowa Where it is Alleged He Was Seen in Act of Firing Lumber.

WALLOWA, Ore., July 31.—At a recent meeting of the different lumber companies it was unanimously agreed to exercise special vigilance for the purpose of protecting their different holdings against fire. As a result of this careful watchfulness, Z. A. Epler was arrested by Deputy Sheriff J. H. Maxwell of Wallowa, charged with incendiarism at the Geo. Palmer Lumber company.

Epler set fire to one of the company's houses which is located in the Wallowa canyon west of town. The accused can scarcely palliate or excuse his offense as he was caught red handed by reputable citizens, who will appear as witnesses against him. Brought before the justice of the peace he entered a plea of not guilty was bound over to the circuit court under $1000 bonds in default of which
